EQUIPMENT LEASE

Customer: Lumen Diagnostics Pvt Ltd

Section 10. General provisions clause 1: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 11. General provisions clause 2: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 12. General provisions clause 3: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 13. General provisions clause 4: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 14. General provisions clause 5: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 15. General provisions clause 6: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 16. General provisions clause 7: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 17. General provisions clause 8: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 18. General provisions clause 9: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 19. General provisions clause 10: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 20. General provisions clause 11: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 21. General provisions clause 12: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 22. General provisions clause 13: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 23. General provisions clause 14: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 24. General provisions clause 15: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 25. General provisions clause 16: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 26. General provisions clause 17: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 27. General provisions clause 18: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 28. General provisions clause 19: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 29. General provisions clause 20: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 30. General provisions clause 21: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 31. General provisions clause 22: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 32. General provisions clause 23: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 33. General provisions clause 24: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 34. General provisions clause 25: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 35. General provisions clause 26: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 36. General provisions clause 27: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 37. General provisions clause 28: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 38. General provisions clause 29: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 39. General provisions clause 30: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 40. General provisions clause 31: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 41. General provisions clause 32: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 42. General provisions clause 33: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 43. General provisions clause 34: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 44. General provisions clause 35: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 45. General provisions clause 36: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 46. General provisions clause 37: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 47. General provisions clause 38: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 48. General provisions clause 39: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 49. General provisions clause 40: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine

correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 50. General provisions clause 41: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 51. General provisions clause 42: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 52. General provisions clause 43: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 53. General provisions clause 44: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 54. General provisions clause 45: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Annexure B. Lease Particulars. The Lessor is Tristar Capital Finance. The monthly rent is INR 4,62,500. The security deposit is INR 13,87,500. The lease ends on 31 March 2029. The equipment is kept at the Hyderabad laboratory. Early return carries a fee of 2 months rent.

Section 60. General provisions clause 1: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 61. General provisions clause 2: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 62. General provisions clause 3: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 63. General provisions clause 4: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 64. General provisions clause 5: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 65. General provisions clause 6: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 66. General provisions clause 7: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 67. General provisions clause 8: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 68. General provisions clause 9: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 69. General provisions clause 10: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 70. General provisions clause 11: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 71. General provisions clause 12: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 72. General provisions clause 13: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 73. General provisions clause 14: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 74. General provisions clause 15: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 75. General provisions clause 16: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 76. General provisions clause 17: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 77. General provisions clause 18: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 78. General provisions clause 19: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 79. General provisions clause 20: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 80. General provisions clause 21: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 81. General provisions clause 22: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 82. General provisions clause 23: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 83. General provisions clause 24: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 84. General provisions clause 25: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine

correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 85. General provisions clause 26: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 86. General provisions clause 27: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 87. General provisions clause 28: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 88. General provisions clause 29: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 89. General provisions clause 30: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 90. General provisions clause 31: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 91. General provisions clause 32: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 92. General provisions clause 33: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 93. General provisions clause 34: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 94. General provisions clause 35: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 95. General provisions clause 36: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 96. General provisions clause 37: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 97. General provisions clause 38: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 98. General provisions clause 39: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 99. General provisions clause 40: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 100. General provisions clause 41: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 101. General provisions clause 42: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 102. General provisions clause 43: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 103. General provisions clause 44: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.

Section 104. General provisions clause 45: The parties shall cooperate in good faith, maintain accurate operating records, and review service quality each quarter. Routine correspondence is handled by the account teams and does not change the commercial terms of this agreement.